PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Your class motto, "Strive Today for a Better Tomorrow," is indicative of your awareness that the future is a product of the events of today and yesterday. Its optimistic tone implies faith in the future and "Strive for Today" seems to show understanding of the need for intelligent application of ourselves to the proper solution of today's problems in order to achieve our "Better Tomorrow."

You, the members of the graduating class, are our tomorrow. Whether it will be better or not will depend on how well you continue in your "strivings."

You have, to date, shown admirable traits which leads one to be confident in this future. You have managed well all your activities and programs. You have been intelligent in handling problems that have confronted you. You have participated extensively in all our varied school community activities. You have initiated new ideas of your own. You have been ambitious, cooperative, considerate, and helpful. You have indeed demonstrated many of the most desirable requisites of good citizenship.

Since you, the product of today and yesterday, have these qualities, we can look forward to a future tomorrow and be confident that it will be better.

The school extends its best wishes.

FREDERICK K. KRAUSS,
Supervising Principal.

CLASS SONG

(Tune: "Love Me Tender")

We are leaving you tonight,
Our dear Auburn High;
But we never will forget
What you've taught to us.
We love you, dear Auburn High,
In our dreams you'll be
Cherished through the years to come,
Always in our hearts.

To the teachers that we like
We must say good-bye,
And to all the friends we've made,
While at Auburn High.
As we go our separate ways,
We'll remember still,
All our precious high school days
At dear Auburn High.

—FERN KERSCHNER.

CLASS POEM

How quick another year has passed,
And we must say good-bye, our last.
We hate to leave our school so dear,
With us its memories will linger near.

We talked and planned this night together,
And we'll remember it forever;
We studied, tried hard, and learned,
For this our diplomas we justly earned.

Now we bid you fond adieu,
Hoping you keep our Alma Mater true;
We'll free ourselves from all sorrow,
And "Strive Today For A Better Tomorrow."

—RUTH LUKENS.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN YEAR

In September, 1953, nineteen proud pupils entered the Freshman Class at Auburn High School. At our first class meeting we elected the following officers:

President, Frederick Moyer; Vice-President, Fern Kerschner; Secretary, Elsie Wargo; Treasurer, Ruth Lukens; Reporter, Mary Lou Smith; Historian, Sherwood Felty.

During our freshman year two new pupils were added to our class, Floyd Seltzer and Francis Chatcho. We regretted losing one pupil, Marilyn Schaefer. We visited the Pottsville Court House, county jail, City Hall, and the "Republican" newspaper office. We also visited the voting polls at the Auburn Fire House. Members of our class participated in such activities as Chorus, Orchestra, Pioneer, Cheerleading, and Girls' and Boys' Basketball. Our class adviser was Mr. Frederick K. Krauss.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

As sophomores of Auburn High, we began a new year with six boys and seven girls. We lost three pupils, Francis Chatcho, Mary Noecker, and Elsie Wargo. We elected the following class officers to take charge of our class responsibilities:

President, Frederick Moyer; Vice-President, Fern Kerschner; Secretary, Dolores Koch; Treasurer, Ruth Lukens; Reporter, Mary Lou Smith, Historian, Carol Nagle.

In the first and second semesters, for money making activities we sold Christmas wreaths and held two successful bake sales and record dances. Our class officers for the second semester were:

President, Fern Kerschner; Vice-President, John Felty; Secretary, Dolores Koch; Treasurer, Ruth Lukens; Historian, Mary Lou Smith; Reporter, Naomi Staller.

We were sorry to lose another of our class, Ina Mae Noecker. Our class adviser was Miss Grace E. Fitts.

JUNIOR YEAR

Now we returned to Auburn High as Juniors. Once again it was time to elect class officers. The following were elected:

President, Frederick Moyer; Vice-President, Ruth Lukens; Secretary, Dolores Koch; Treasurer, Fern Kerschner; Reporter, John Felty; Historian, Carol Nagle.

After a few days of school, everyone was excited by the arrival of our long-awaited class rings. Our money making activities consisted of a magazine campaign, which we won. We had bake sales and dances. We also sold Auburn High sweat shirts and Mother's Day cakes. We regretted losing two pupils, Dorothy Fidler and Eileen Rogers. Members of the class were active in Orchestra, Chorus, Pioneer, Cheerleading, and Boys' and Girls' Basketball. Our adviser was Miss Grace E. Fitts.

SENIOR YEAR

This year, when we returned to our Alma Mater, we were proud seniors. At last we had reached our goal, but much lay ahead of us to meet. Our class officers were as follows:

President, Frederick Moyer, Vice-President, Ruth Lukens; Secretary, Dolores Koch; Treasurer, Fern Kerschner; Historian, Carol Nagle; Reporter, Harry Fisher.

We regretted to lose Joanne Tobias and James Stevens, which decreased our class to twelve members. Our money making activities for the first semester were serving refreshments at the Cerebral Palsy Hoedown, an Orchestra Dance in the fall, and sponsored a Hoedown. We sold Christmas cards and high school jackets. On November 30, the class presented their play entitled "Out of This World," under the direction of Miss Grace E. Fitts. During the second semester we visited the State Hospital at Wernersville and the State Capitol at Harrisburg. We also had a successful bake sale and dance; we sold all-occasion cards. Our one big project this year was our yearbook. The following were elected to the staff:

Editor-in-Chief, Dolores Koch; Assistant Editor, Frederick Moyer; Business Manager, Ruth Lukens; Art Editors, John Felty and Carol Nagle; Assistant Business Manager, Fern Kerschner; Sports Editors, Sherwood Felty and Mary Lou Smith.

The rest of the class was on the literary staff. Everyone worked hard on the yearbook, getting "ads" and assembling the book. The next thing we looked forward to was our Senior Ball on May 18, and our trip to Washington on May, 13, 14, and 15. The memories of our ball and trip will remain with us forever. Now as we leave to face the future, we bid everyone farewell. In leaving, we wish to extend our thankfulness and gratitude to the faculty, who have done everything they could to help us further our education.

"OUR TWENTIETH REUNION"

All announcements had been sent to the families of the Class of '57. It was now one week until the day we were to have our Class Reunion. We had decided to have a Bar-B-Que at Oak Hill Terrace, instead of a ball.

Oak Hill Terrace is the home of Harry Fisher, who is now a wealthy math professor at a college in Kentucky, where he lives.

Frederick Moyer was to prepare the meal for the Bar-B-Que. Nobody knew what the menu was to be.

The night had finally arrived; it was a beautiful, starlit evening. The orchestra was playing a lovely waltz when Sherwood Felty and his wife, Fern Kerschner, walked beneath the rose trellis. I went to greet them. To my surprise, I found Sherwood was a sergeant in the Marines, and Fern a mother of three children.

I had almost forgotten that other guests were arriving, and had to interrupt the chat to go and welcome someone coming from behind the spurting fountain. It was Donna Scheipe and her husband. From the chat with Donna, I found she has a set of twin girls, and holds the trophy for the cherry pie contest of the United States.

I felt a tap on my shoulder and I turned around to see that John Felty has grown as tall as I. With him was his beautiful wife, whom he had met out in California while shooting a role in an Air Force picture soon to be released.

Among the dancing couples, I found Ruth Lukens and her husband, Robert Luckenbill. Ruth, an airline hostess, was taking advantage of the dance because she had just returned from a trip to Hawaii. We were surprised to see Ruth there on time, but everyone has changed a great deal.

I looked over the shoulders of several people and saw Mary Lou Smith and her husband talking to Naomi Staller. As I talked with them, I found that Naomi wasn't married, but is a secretary to a multi-millionaire. Mary Lou is the head nurse at the Wyoming State Hospital.

I saw someone I didn't recognize until he stood under the light. This blushing class member must be Floyd Seltzer. I went over to talk to him. Floyd is married, the father of seven children, and a successful business man.

It had just come to me that I had not met Dolores Koch, who is now the wife of Harry Fisher. They have one child, a boy.

Everyone had arrived but Carol Nagle. She stated in her letter she wouldn't be able to come until late, because she had to fly from Alaska where she is an X-ray technician at a Naval base.

Frederick Moyer prepared the meal, and everyone was amazed to see a lamb rotating on the Bar-B-Que. Frederick and his wife owned a gorgeous snack bar and ballroom for teenagers.

Carol just arrived in time for the meal, and after the meal, prizes were awarded, and everyone stood up and told about themselves since graduation night, June 7, 1957.

The orchestra was playing their last selection. It was the music to our class song, and everyone joined in and sang while they danced.

It seemed as if everyone had danced off into the sky because it was twenty years since we had seen each other and we were then together only several hours, but it was late and some had to travel far. As I saw the departing smiles on their faces, I knew everyone had had a wonderful time.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY

"Out of This World"

A man's home is his castle, but Otis Kerby, a slightly eccentric bachelor, doesn't quite feel that way about it. His attractive niece, Linda, who lives with him while she attends Parkhurst School for Girls, is too full of ideas. Most of her brain storms bring trouble in one form or another.

The entire action of the play took place in the living room of Otis Kerby's mansion, situated next door to the Parkhurst School for Girls.

For the year of 1956-'57, the boys' basketball teams had a very prosperous and exciting season. They were much more successful than in the past several years. With much bigger crowds this year, the boys went out to win 13 games out of the 19 scheduled. There was a marvelous display of teamwork and sportsmanship. At times, it was a little rough, but with the guidance and assurance of the coach, Mr. Premich, the boys came through with flying colors. We hope next year's team will be as successful as this year's team was. The team will lose John Felty, Floyd Seltzer, Harry Fisher, and Sherwood Felty, and also Frederick Moyer, scorekeeper, because of graduation.

The Girls' Basketball team had a short season because they had only four games. Considering the few practices and short season, our girls put up a furious battle against their opponents.

The girls, under the coaching of Mr. Premich, showed a very good display of teamwork and stability under pressure.

With the regulars returning next year, we know the team will have a more successful season. Because of graduation, the team will lose the services of Ruth Lukens, Dolores Koch, and Naomi Staller.
